

Visiting Lady Bee Marina

Welcome to Shoreham Port

Shoreham Port has operated as a statutory undertaking Trust Port since 1760, when the first Shoreham Port Harbour Act received Royal Assent. Over the past 260 years cargoes, vessel types and land uses have all changed considerably, and the Port has continually reinvented itself. Our commercial cargoes range from timber, steel, oil, grain and aggregates. Bustling marinas are home to local leisure boat users. Our fishing vessels have made us the top UK Port for scallop landings for 5 years running. A thriving commercial property portfolio has enabled over 170 small and medium sized businesses to join our Port community.

Since our inception, Shoreham Port has been operating as a Trust Port. Our purpose to this day remains to shape and maintain the Port for the benefit of all stakeholders. The surpluses we make are reinvested in the Port to benefit everyone, creating jobs and opportunities.

In 2022 our vision for the Port remains consistent, we want to play our part in leading the regional economy to a sustainable future, leaving things better than we found them for future generations. We are proud to have been a certified EcoPort since 2013. We have over 10,000 solar panels across the Port and on a windy day Spinny and Gusty, our two onshore turbines generate enough power for the whole Port. We work in harmony with nature and continually assess our environmental impact to protect our communities for generations to come.

Did you know...

- The Roman name for nearby Portslade was Portus Ladus which means 'the way to the Port'
- King Charles II made his escape from England to Fecamp in Normandy on 12th October 1651 in the coal brig "Surprise" which was then at Shoreham Half-laden.
- It is generally believed that the Roman port of Portus Adurni was situated on the lower reaches of the River Adur and that a Roman highway was built between the Port and London.

Thank you for visiting us. We hope you enjoy your time at Shoreham Port and look forward to welcoming you again soon.

Getting the correct permission to visit us

If you are visiting the UK from the Continent, please ensure you read the following instructions thoroughly and take the necessary actions to enter the UK legally.

The poster is white with a dark blue border. In the top left corner, there is a dark blue triangle containing the Border Force logo and the text 'Border Force'. In the top right corner, there is a light blue square with a dark blue lowercase 'i' inside. The main title 'Coming to the UK as a visitor' is in a large, dark blue font. Below the title, there are several paragraphs of text in a smaller, dark blue font. The text includes instructions on how to call the Border Force Newhaven number, conditions for not needing to call, requirements for notification, and a warning about illegal entry. At the bottom, there is a reference code and a dark blue triangle with white diagonal lines.

Coming to the UK as a visitor

You must call this number +44(0)300 073 8592 (Border Force Newhaven) before you disembark the vessel.

You do not need to call if you have existing permission to enter or remain, or have a right of entry to the UK.

You must have received notification of your permission to enter the UK prior to disembarking your vessel, this may be granted remotely (without physically seeing a Border Force Officer).

Failure to obtain permission to enter the UK may result in you entering the UK illegally and subject to enforcement action.

However, you must call the HMRC National Yachtline to make an arrival report for customs purposes +44(0)300 123 2012.

International Catering Waste

The new post-Brexit rules on vessels, which now includes fishing and leisure vessels carrying International Catering Waste (ICW), have now come into force. If your vessel has visited any non-UK port and you intend to dispose of any food or food waste (or packaging or utensils with food residue), then please make Shoreham Port aware, so that necessary arrangements can be made.

All food or food waste being disposed of must be double-bagged and disposed of in the Blue Bin – marked non-UK Food Waste Category 1 By-Product For Disposal Only by the pontoon entrance gate.

Need to Know

Our vibrant and secure marinas are ideal for leisure vessels and yachts with easy access to open water along the South Coast and beyond. Our marinas are ideally located within the Brighton and Hove area, with excellent transport links to London, Sussex and the South East.

Lady Bee Marina is located inside our main shipping canal, providing excellent shelter during stormy weather and the security of deep water. There are approximately 160 pontoon berths at Lady Bee Marina and among the facilities available are water and electricity, shower blocks, chandlers, parking and an array of pubs and restaurants nearby.

Leisure visitor berths are available on pontoons at Lady Bee Marina, within the impounded water of the Canal for vessels up to 16.00m. Access to Lady Bee Marina is via the Prince George lock.

Commercial vessels also transit the Port, passing through the Prince Philip lock into the Canal on most tides. Information on shipping movements can be obtained from Shoreham Harbour Radio on VHF channel 14.
